MacMahon and Grant Contrasted.

President Grant's visit to Marshal MacMahon is one of the picturesque things in history. The two men have many points of resemblance and many opposite characteristics. Their careers have been in some respects strikingly similar. Each was first a successful soldier and afterwards the chief of a great Republic. Each owed his political elevation principally to the popular esteem which his military renown had brought him, and each was untidied in some degree for the discharge of political duties by his military education. Grant was in civil life hardly less stubborn than MacMahon, hardly less confident of his own judgment, and not at all less jealous of his personal prerogative. But as Grant's military record is much more brilliant than that of MacMahon, so, unless all present indications fail, will his civil life be regarded as nobler when the lives of both men are finally made up. The American President always stopped on the right side of imprudence; the French President has not always done so. The American has thoroughly at heart the welfare of his countrymen and the permanency of Republican institutions; the Frenchman is chiefly concerned about the church and the dynasty of the Bonapartes. It would be a wholesome thing, perhaps, for the two Presidents if they could exchange views freely on political subjects, without reference to etiquette. General Grant might give MacMahon lessons on statecraft, for, though America has wiser politicians than Grant, it has none stupider than MacMahon.—Chicago Tribune.

A CURE FOR INTERFERENCE.—The New York Sun has revived an old suggestion of Liebig's made some years ago, that the use of cod-liver oil would have a tendency to promote a distaste for alcoholic stimulants. According to the same authority many people had found they could take wine with animal food, but not with farinaceous or amyloseous nutriment. A well-known man of science, Mr. C. Napier, has undertaken to test these assertions, and the results of his experiments are set forth in a paper read before the physiological section of the British Association, and which has attracted much attention in England. His experiments were successful.

A man named J. Christ was arrested in San Francisco a few days ago on two charges of battery.

The Railroad Companies vs. the Government.

It is a notorious fact that the Central Pacific and Union Pacific railroad companies have utterly failed to comply with all or any of the conditions of their respective grants. The wealth of an empire has been poured into their greedy laps, without one single mark of grateful recognition in return. More than this, these same companies not content with oppressing and impoverishing the people in every way that a malignant ingenuity could devise, have coolly turned upon the government which gave life to their respective enterprises, and refused to pay the interest on the bonds issued to raise the money necessary to build and equip the roads. The enormous sum of ninety-three millions of dollars in gold is the amount of indebtedness of these corporations, for which the Government is primarily liable. The companies having taken no steps to provide for the payment of the interest on this sum, nor a sinking fund for the redemption of the principal. Senator Thurman, of Ohio, has prepared a bill which is now pending before the Judiciary Committee of the Senate. The bill provides for payment into the U. S. Treasury each year twenty-five per centum of the net earnings of each road, to be applied, first, in payment of the interest due from the companies and, second, towards a sinking fund for the final payment of the bonds. It is also provided that, in the event of the remaining seventy-five per cent. of the net earnings being insufficient to pay the operating expenses and the interest and indebtedness due to the creditors of the roads, other than the Government, such fact being made to appear, the Secretary of the Treasury may remit such portion of the twenty-five per cent. required to be paid into the Treasury, and permit the same to be applied to the satisfaction of other demands, nothing could be fairer than this bill, which would fill the heart of an honest debtor with gratitude for the unusual privileges accorded. Naturally, however, these corporations do not view any proposition looking to a return by them of the millions wrung from a tax burdened people, in a favorable light. So they are massing their forces at Washington to defeat this just and wise measure, and to that end have made a proposition, one which I commend to the people as one of the most magnificent illustrations of cheek and audacity the nineteenth century has afforded—"two millions in cash and six millions in land" say these companies to the Government, "we will pay in to the people's treasury in satisfaction of our dues. The interest on this amount will, in the course of time, pay our indebtedness." In aid of this scheme the Hon. Stephen Gage, a director of one of the Central Pacific lines, has arrived in this State with petitions cunningly drafted by the railroad lawyers, praying Congress to take back from the Company all the unsold lands at $2 50 per acre. Mr. Gage intends going through the State to obtain signers to these petitions. The Enterprise, as usual, has fallen into line, and is now advocating the scheme. Want of space precludes me from discussing the question fully, but I call attention to one of the many arguments in answer to the corporation and its agent: The lands to be returned to the Government is the refuse of the grant, the company having sold the choicest sections at prices ranging from $3 50 to $25 per acre. The proposal of the company, if accepted by Congress, will throw millions of acres of almost worthless land upon the Government, relieving the company of its liability to pay taxes to our State on the same. The writer proposes to pursue this subject further at his leisure, but in the meantime asks the people whether the discrimination which has ever marked the policy of this Railroad Company towards our people is evidence of the good will it bears them.

ANOTHER SUICIDE—THE USUAL WOMAN.—On the 12th, at San Juan (San Benito Co.) W. T. R. Helm, the Principal of the school there after dismissing the scholars shot himself, the ball entering below the heart. He is still alive but cannot recover. Before committing the act he wrote on the blackboard a short farewell to his friends concluding with "Mary, this solves the problem." The Mary he refers to is a young lady of Watsonville with whom he had spent Sunday.

ARIZONA.

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

Tucson, November 7, 1877.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—In my last letter I told you something about Tucson and the county of Pima. In this I desire to take you north about eighty miles and drop you in the town of Florence, the county seat of Pinal Co., and afterward whirl you eastward, through the strange country east of that place, as far as the boundary of the Territory, on the New Mexican line.

Florence is now a town of between 1,500 and 2,000 inhabitants, who have all come there within the past three years, and built from a mere crossroads as thriving, prosperous and pretty a town as can be found in Arizona. It is right in the valley of the Gila river, in the midst of a fine agricultural country, where the soil is as rich as that of the valley of the Nile, and where, in anything like ordinary seasons, there is abundant water to irrigate two good crops each year. The Gila valley, along near Florence, and eastward therefrom, has been settled up with wonderful rapidity. Where a few years ago there was nothing more than a stage station once in twenty miles, there is now a continuous line of farms, upon which anything can be grown, and which now yearly produce large quantities of grain, vegetables and fruit. In a few years, no doubt, cotton will bloom in its fleecy beauty along the Gila, save where the fragrant plant that gives the "weed" so much enjoyed by its devotees, makes the land smile with its pleasant verdure. The town itself is well laid out on a mesa on the south bank of the river, with channels of water, acequias, along the edges of the streets, which are lined by stately cottonwoods. There are several large stores, and doctors, lawyers, saloon-keepers, etc., in the usual proportion vouchsafed to frontier towns. The Citizen newspaper, which for seven years has been the principal and best paper of Arizona, has lately been purchased from its proprietor in Tucson and moved to Florence, where it will be under the control of M. J. P. Clunn.

Although prosperous and lively now, Florence is par excellence a town of prospects. It was thought for a long time that the Southern Pacific Railroad, on its way through Arizona, would follow the course of the Gila river across the Territory, much as does the Central Pacific follow your Truckee and Humboldt, and that this was certain to make a great inland town just at Florence. Later advices, however, establish the fact that the company by no means intend to follow the river just because railroads usually do so, but does intend to build by the shortest, most natural and in every sense best road, viz., that leaving the Gila at Maricopa Wells and thence following the course of the Santa Cruz river southeasterly through Tucson, and thence again onward to the east as is laid down on most maps of Arizona as the course of the Texas Pacific Railroad. This will undoubtedly make Tucson a great inland town, which is just what its resources and position would seem to necessitate, and make Florence be content with a branch line about twenty miles long. That town need not care much, anyhow, as lying back of and tributary to it is found one of the most remarkable mineral districts ever known, and which when more developed will cause the wonder of the Nevada silver mines to grow into insignificance. Mark my word for it, within the next two years the question of what to do with all the silver, and copper as well, will be made prominent beyond itself by the production of the Pioneer and Globe districts in Pinal county, Arizona.

One fine morning—all mornings in southern Arizona are fine—four poor prospectors who had lived in this section so long that they must have been made up entirely of bacon, beans and mescal, got tired of staying about town and went to the mountain in search of wealth, and I should say, speaking in the scientific dialect of a miner, "they rather struck it." In the course of their wanderings they came upon a mountain of silver, located it, and gave it the most appropriate of names, "The Silver King." This mine from the beginning was a marvel. The rock from the surface down has paid thousands of dollars to the ton, and keeps on doing so and is likely to continue for God only knows how long. The four finders are now all out of it and retired with ample means, and "The Silver King" is owned exclusively by Col. Barney of Yuma, who is, they say, clearing something over $1000 a day, with a small mill and four concentrators. Three hundred and sixty-five thousand dollars a year, and in leap year sixty-six, is a very pleasant income and a good interest on the seven hundred thousand dollars the mine cost its poor proprietor. If this thing keeps on and new machinery is put up, your "bonanza kings" will be, comparatively speaking, poor men. Of course as soon as the King was found the country for miles around was almost immediately located by incipient millionaires, and a large number of other fine and paying mines have been opened in the vicinity, which is now known as the Pioneer Mining District, and is distant about fifty miles north east of Florence.

A Nevadan thinks Nevada a pretty good State, and she is. An Englishman thinks England a pretty good-sized country, and it is. A Frenchman thinks France a very large country, and it is. But we have one State, Texas, as large as England, Scotland, Ireland and France, all put together; and even then, there would be enough prairie left over to make another State nearly as large as Nevada. Young America was about right, who, when called on to bound the United States, responded: "She is bounded on the north by the aurora borealis; on the south by the torrid zone; on the east by the rising sun; on the west by all creation."—Eureka Republican.

GRANTED.—The Supreme Court yesterday granted a writ of mandamus to compel Controller Hobart to give District Attorney Drake access to the records of the Controller's office, to enable him to work up the back billion tax suits. The refusal of the Controller to put these records at the disposal of the District Attorney has greatly delayed him in the prosecution of these cases. Proceedings will now be pushed energetically.—Carson Tribune.

What was the difficulty with the State Controller, that he in the first place withheld permission to the District Attorney to have the necessary access to the State records?

The late Senator Morton read newspapers more than books. His favorite poetry was "Paradise Lost." He often felt the want of a more general acquaintance with literature, but never pretended to knowledge that he didn't possess.

Just think, five good cigars at Yankee Dodge's for a quarter of a dollar. 6-Stf.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE SECOND and Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, to Hill & Oakes, Assignees of the Estate of Hill & Oakes, Plaintiffs, vs. Torrelli, Luigi Dellapiga, Albert Man, G. Mapes and B. F. Sheldon, Defendants. You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendants, by A. D. Sisson, W. W. Wallace and Clark Crocker, copartners, under name of Sisson, Wallace & Co., as plaintiffs, in the District Court of the Second Judicial District, in and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein, within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover $623.78, with interest, all in U. S. gold coin, from defendants, Hill & Oakes, assigned to be due for lumber and material furnished them by the Reno Lumber Company, and to foreclose and determine a certain lien, claimed against lots one and two in block F, on the corner of Virginia and Second streets, in the town of Reno, county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and the frame buildings thereon. Plaintiffs allege an assignment of said defendants' lien to plaintiffs, that defendants Torrelli, Dellapiga, Man, Mapes and Sheldon, have, or claim to have, some interest in the property and that the materials furnished for the construction of the buildings aforesaid, and with the knowledge of the defendants last named, and their failure to give notice in writing by posting within three days after obtaining knowledge that they would not be responsible for such materials. Plaintiff prays judgment of foreclosure and for personal judgment against Hill & Oakes; all of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said court at Reno, in said county. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiffs will apply to the court for the relief demanded. In testimony whereof, I, P. B. Comstock, Clerk of said court, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said court, this 25th day of October, A. D. 1877. P. B. COMSTOCK, Clerk.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Oil Depot.

Location—Conveniences—Classes of Oil Kept, Etc., Etc.

By invitation of Mr. W. T. Kirkpatrick, the gentlemanly resident agent of the Continental Oil and Transportation Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, we visited the oil depot of this Company. Their Nevada depot is located in the western part of Reno, near the main track of the C. P. R. R. and adjacent to Bragg & Co's lumber yard. A side track from the C. P. accommodates Messrs. Bragg & Co. and the Continental Oil & Transportation Co. The main building of the Company is 20x40 and the office is in the front part of the building. In the oil rooms we found a number of cases of burning oil and a large number of barrels of lubricating or machine oil. Under-ground, two large sheet iron oil tanks have been put in position. Each tank will hold 2,500 gallons of coal oil, and are provided with pipes running underground to the railroad track, and so placed that connection can readily be made with oil cars which may be left on the side track to unload. The oil tanks are connected with each other by pipe so that in case a large supply of oil of one kind is on hand both may be readily filled with the same test of oil. Two other tanks of the capacity of 2,500 gallons will be placed in position in a few weeks. Conveniences are provided for the rapid filling of oil cans and barrels directly from the tanks. The oil kept here will come directly from the Company's oil works, at Cleveland, Ohio, and will be ready for the market. The Co. will not refine any oil here. This point is simply a branch oil depot for this State. The oil which they will keep will be coal oil in its various states. The stock of burning oil will be from 110 to 300, fire test. Fire test refers to its illuminating qualities. Devoe's coal oil is 110 fire test. The higher the test the safer is the oil and the greater its illuminating power. The crude oil is used as machine oil, and is a dark, heavy oil. This is kept in 50-gallon barrels. This oil has passed through the first refining from the crude oil as gathered from the oil mine. Our merchants, by the establishment of an oil depot here, can buy such a quantity of oil as they may choose, thus saving freightage between here and San Francisco, and further, by their direct purchase from the refinery, will be able to sell illuminating and machine oil to their customers at less rates than heretofore. The mining men of Virginia can also save much freightage by buying oil from the company at this place. The company will keep constantly on hand 8,000 to 10,000 gallons of oil, and if the market demands a larger stock, it will be supplied. Reno is a central location for an oil depot. The company readily perceived this fact and have not been slow to take advantage of it. You are welcome gentlemen.

BIBLE AGENT.—Rev. J. Thompson, and old friend of ours from Oakland, marched into our sanctum this afternoon and thus delivered himself: I will be in your city about a week, and will call upon your citizens in the interests of the American Bible Society. It is my object to supply the people of Reno, who have no Bible or Testament, with this most desirable book. We would also state that Rev. Thompson will preach Sunday morning at the Congregational Church, and in the evening at the Baptist Church. Monday evening there will be a Union Bible Meeting at the Methodist Church.

They will all take a bus to-night at the Episcopal social, held at the residence of Mr. Gardner in Carson. All that is required is that those who will stand in shall leave their order at Doc Benton's. We Reno Episcopalians should have a bus at our church social. Why not?

W. R. Phillips' bond is $2,000. As it now appears he will have to lie in jail until his trial at the next term of court.

Remember the lecture of Professor Holmes this evening at the Baptist Church. The lecturer is spoken of as a man of ability and extended experience.

Disastrous Fire in Chicago.

CHICAGO, November 14.—At 8:05 this evening a fire broke out in the fifth story of Field & Leiter's retail establishment, corner of State and Washington, from unknown causes. Nobody was at the alarm box when the firemen reached there and fifteen minutes was lost in finding the fire. The flames quickly communicated to the lower floors, and at 10 o'clock the whole building was one mass of fire. Mr. Field estimates his loss at perhaps $1,000,000 and it is not less than $750,000, certainly. Many casualties occurred. Charles Dudley of San Francisco, a member of a Chicago fire company, was killed; and Lieut. J. H. Shuenberg, Francis Flannigan, R. C. Payne and Jerome Barley badly injured. Pat Smith, an employe, was hurt by a falling timber. John O'Rourke and Eugene Sweeney, pipe-men, are missing and supposed to be in the ruins. The stock was insured for $950,000. The wholesale establishment being several blocks away was uninjured, and Mr. Field says that the retail business will be resumed as soon as suitable quarters can be obtained.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.

Sloan's insurance agency reports, concerning the loss by fire last night, that the building is estimated by architect Bauman as damaged less than $100,000; insured for $200,000 in New York agencies. The fire broke out a second time early this morning in the basement where were stored a large quantity of package goods, and it became necessary to flood that part of the store. Besides Dudley, who was killed last night, the only other man known to have fallen a victim to the flames is O'Rourke, a fireman, who fell with the stairs from the third story to the basement, and whose body has not yet been found.

Russian administration is being introduced into the villages of Erzeroum. General Schelovnikoph has been appointed Military Governor.

DIRECT ROAD TO RENO.—The crews that have been at work on the survey for the direct railroad between this city and Reno returned yesterday morning. The route surveyed is along the Geiger Grade to a point nearly opposite the race track, then to Steamboat Springs and Reno. It is forty-two miles in length, but can be cut down eight or nine miles, making the length thirty-three or thirty-four miles. This route has not been fully decided upon, however, by the promoters of the new railroad scheme, and they are now considering the comparative advantages of the Louisa Creek and Steamboat Springs routes. The former strikes the Truckee river about twelve miles from Reno. The Renosites are very enthusiastic over the new road, and have already subscribed over $50,000, and promised to increase their subscriptions to fully $100,000. The route will probably not be finally determined upon before Spring.—Va. Chronicle.

We trust that in a few days we shall be able to present something more definite than has yet appeared upon the project for the above railroad.

THANKSGIVING DINNER.—The ladies of the Catholic Church will give their Thanksgiving dinner for the benefit of the church and school, on Thursday, the 29th inst., from 12 m. till 5 p. m. The dinner will be served hot, and will be at the Opera House. Meals 75 cents.

Mag. White.
End of a Notorious St. Louis Woman.
[St. Louis Dispatch.]
On Sunday a noted courtesan, known as Mag. White, died at her house on Ninth street, of consumption, and was buried this afternoon, the funeral taking place from Smithers' undertaking rooms, corner of Ninth and Chestnut streets. The body, which has been lying in state at Smithers' room since shortly after death, was viewed this morning by a large number of the former associates of the deceased.
The corpse was laid out in a handsome casket. The floral offerings contributed by sisters in shame were profuse and elegant, almost enshrouding the body and covering the coffin.
Of all the wealth of white flowers there was but one little contribution that had not been wrought by fingers of soiled doves. This token deserves notice. It was only a delicately wrought letter "G," which was placed on the glass top of the coffin, over the breast of the corpse. What the letter "G" could stand for, was a question asked by many of the visitors to Smithers'. To a Dispatch reporter a lady dressed in black, and wearing a heavy veil, said, in a low voice, that the letter "G" stood for "Gertrude," the name the deceased bore before she went to the bad, and those camellias and tube roses were arranged to form that letter by a friend, who knew her when she was a merry-eyed, innocent girl.
There is quite a romance connected with the madam. The following facts have been given by one who knew her: She was the daughter of a noted minister of the gospel, living near Fredericktown, Missouri, named Watts, and at one time stationed in this city. When the rebellion broke out she was in the bloom of girlhood, residing with her father in Cape Girardeau County. The preacher espoused the rebel cause, and joined the forces of Jeff. Thompson, the "Swamp Fox" of the southeast. After a while a force of Union troops occupied that portion of the State, and Maggie made the acquaintance of some of the officers. One of them married her, and his regiment being ordered away, he left his young bride at home while he marched to the front. Another officer took advantage of her situation and effected her ruin. When the war ended and the preacher returned to his family he discarded his erring daughter, and she came to St. Louis to hide her shame. For several years she led a retired life, and then took a house of her own, which she kept in elegant style. She had made repeated efforts to become reconciled to her father, but the stern old man, who in his sermons boasted that until the day of his conversion he had been the chief of sinners, refused to receive her back. For several years she was afflicted with consumption, and yesterday she found relief in death.
It was the request of Gertrude Watts, alias Maggie White, that none of her associates attend her funeral, but this was unheeded, and a large concourse assembled to be present at the sad rites which were conducted by the Rev. R. C. Houghton, of the Methodist church, corner of Eleventh and Locust streets. A number in carriages followed the hearse to the cemetery, presenting a singular picture as they gathered round the grave so suggestive of earth's frivolities.
A particularly high-toned Boston drummer who prides himself on his charms, forever lost his pride the other day. He drove his fellow drummers wild in a car by his attentions to a comely maiden, to whom he showed his samples and whose hand he squeezed for half an hour. But when the train stopped, a quiet old fellow stepped forward and thanked him for entertaining the girl, remarking: "She is hopelessly insane, and I am taking her to the State Asylum here."—Providence Journal.
"And you must go so soon!" she murmured as he gathered up his hat and cane and turned his sleepy eyes toward the door. "It is late," he said. "Late!" she cooed softly; "any, love, night's candles are not burned out and jound day is still ahead. I pray you linger but a moment longer—" But he said he could not possibly; he had to get down to the store at seven o'clock, or the boss would dock his wages, and he couldn't stand that anyhow; and besides he had a good deal of dusting to do. And he "dusted."—Newark Call.
A WOMAN MYSTERIOUSLY MURDERED.—Bridget F. Kennedy was murdered at South Boston Thursday night, where she had gone to visit her sister. About 9 o'clock she rang the bell, was admitted by her brother and immediately fell to the floor and died in ten minutes. On an examination three stabs were found in her breast. The affair is involved in mystery. Peter Mahoney was arrested on suspicion and a bloody knife was found in his possession. He was under the influence of liquor and had been seen near the house brandishing a knife, and threatening, and threatening to kill some one.
"What!" said the ancient Dutchman of the Mohawk Valley, when asked to contribute to a new lightning rod for the church. "You tink der Lord dunder. His own house down!"
Mrs. Van Cott has closed her labors at Athol, Mass., and declares that to save one soul in that town is equivalent to save one hundred in any other locality.

SUMMONS.
IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe,
The State of Nevada, by and for the County of Washoe, do hereby certify that Antonio Boverio, and Lopor, co-partners doing business under the firm name and style of Ceresia Germain & Co., greeting: You are hereby required to appear in and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons, (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action brought to recover a judgment against you,
the defendants, for the sum of Three Thousand, Ninety-four and 20/100 Dollars ($3,094.20)
gold coin of the United States, in favor of the plaintiff, said sum being a balance due the plaintiff on an account for goods, wares and merchandise sold and delivered by plaintiff to defendants at their special instance and request; also for board of men (employees of defendants) and horse feed obtained at the special instance and request of defendants from plaintiff, said account commencing on or about the 1st day of October, A. D. 1876, and ending on the 31st day of December, A. D. 1876, the whole of said account amounting to the sum of $13,094.20, on which there was paid the sum of $9,000, leaving a balance due of $4,094.20, as aforesaid, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will take judgment for the said amount, besides interest and costs of suit.
In testimony whereof, I, P. B. COMSTOCK, Clerk,
do hereunto set my hand
and affixed the seal of said court,
this 21st day of August, A. D. 1877.

WATCHES!! JEWELRY!!
ROMAINE GOLD.
SO EXTENSIVELY WORN IN PARIS,
was first discovered in 1870, by the celebrated French chemist, M. D. De Dainge, who manufactured it into jewelry, and for five years sold it to the leading jewelers of Paris for Solid Gold. In 1875, when his secret became known, ten of the manufacturing jewelers established a stock company, with a capital of $10,000,000 for the purpose of manufacturing Romaine Gold Jewelry and Watches. With this immense capital and the aid of improved machinery, they are enabled to produce all kinds of patterns of Jewelry at less than one-tenth the cost of solid gold, and of equal quality and color which makes it impossible even for experts to detect it from the genuine.
We have secured the exclusive agency of the United States and Canada, for the sale of all goods manufactured from this metal, and in order to introduce them in the most speedy manner, have put up assorted sample lots as given below, which we will sell at one-tenth the retail value until January 1st, 1878. Read the list.

Private Medical Institute.
300, KERNAN STREET, SAN FRANCISCO.
Established in 1854.
For the Permanent Cure of all Special and Chronic Diseases, as also all Female Complaints and Diseases of the Nervous System.
THE IMMENSE DESTRUCTION OF
human life annually from secret and chronic diseases, caused this old and reliable institution to be established, first in Philadelphia, Penn., in 1850, and afterwards in San Francisco, Cal., in 1854, as a private dispensary, in order to afford the afflicted the best medical and surgical treatment for the above and all other affections and complaints. Consultation at the Institute, or by letter, FREE.
To the Afflicted:
Dr. L. J. Czapkey would most respectfully inform the public of the Pacific coast that, at the earnest solicitation of his numerous friends, and hundreds of those unfortunately afflicted with disease, he has reopened his MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE
and resumed the practice of his profession.
The Doctor would remind all those who are in need of medical aid, that since relinquishing his very extensive and successful practice in San Francisco, he has visited the principal cities in Europe, inspecting diligently the experience of the most learned in the profession,
the benefit from which he offers to all in need of his services. Rheumatic affections, chronic catarrhs, diseases of the stomach and kidneys,
liver complaints, etc., successfully treated.
Those who are suffering from the errors and indulgences of youth, nervous weakness, physical and mental debility, are assured of a permanent cure. Charges moderate. All communication strictly confidential. Medicines sent by express. Address,
